THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

The time is nearly here for the opening of the State campaign. The county conventions will meet the first Monday in May and the State convention the third Wednesday in May. There will be very little for the State convention to do except to adopt a platform and arrange for the Democratic primary.

The indications now point to the fullest crop of candidates for State offices we have had in a good many years. The people will have plenty of material from which to make selection and there should be no trouble in selecting good men.

The trouble this year is going to be that the races for the United States senate and governor will so overshadow everything else that the selection of other State officers is going to be sort of a grab-bag arrangement. And yet we believe the people will do right and no one who desires a public position should be unwilling to trust them.

There are already five avowed candidates for governor and many more possibilities. W. J. Talbert and James H. Tillman, of Edgefield; W. H. Timmerman, of Lexington; M. F. Ansel, of Greenville, and D. C. Heyward of Colleton, are pronounced candidates. Then there is talk that possibly Gov. McSweeney would stand for re-election and we have heard that John C. Shepard, of Edgefield, would also enter the arena and there may be others.

For lieutenant governor, Frank B. Gary, of Abbeville; J. L. Glenn, of Chester; Cole L. Blease, of Newberry, and S. G. Mayfield, of Bamberg, have been mentioned. This office is much more sought after latterly. It carries no salary and is purely honorary and we suppose is looked upon as a stepping stone to something in the future. From this office Eugene B. Gary went to the Supreme bench, W. H. Timmerman became State treasurer, M. B. McSweeney governor and R. B. Scarborough congressman, and all since 1890. Now Mr. Tillman is going to try to be governor. So in the light of the last ten years all who have filled this position have secured something better.

For attorney general, there are so far mentioned only two avowed candidates—U. X. Gunter, of Spartanburg, and W. F. Stevenson, of Chesterfield. No opposition has yet developed to Mr. Jennings as State treasurer.

For the other State offices the candidates are so numerous that we cannot undertake to enumerate them.

We hope the State campaign may be a pleasant one and free from personality and bitterness. It should be a campaign of education and can be made such if the candidates will conduct their canvases on a high plane as they should.

COL. B. W. BALL.

Col. B. W. Ball, of Laurens, and editor of the Laurens Advertiser, died at his home in that city yesterday morning. We knew Col. Ball very pleasantly and always enjoyed reading the editorial columns of the Advertiser when he was writing the editorials. He had an entertaining, incisive and forceful style that always attracted attention. His profession, however, was that of a lawyer and newspaper work with him was only a pleasant pastime. He was a lawyer of marked ability and enjoyed a large practice. His death breaks another link which binds us to the past of long ago, and is a loss not only to South Carolina journalism, but to his city, his county and his State. To the family we extend our sympathy.

Next Tuesday the special train carrying the students of Newberry College will leave for the Charleston Exposition. Besides the students of the college, the train will carry the school children throughout the county and all others who may want to take advantage of the especially low rates in force for this occasion.

No better time could be selected for going to the Exposition, and we hope to see a large number of Newberry people take advantage of this opportunity.

The special will be run over the Southern railway, leaving Newberry at 9 a. m., and arrives in Charleston at 3 p. m.

The campaign in the third district the coming summer promises to be the most interesting and lively of any district in the State if the number of candidates counts for anything. Greenwood and Oconee, so far as we have observed, are the only counties in the district which have no avowed candidates. Newberry has two candidates, Abbeville three, Anderson two and Pickens one. From Newberry it is said State Senator Geo. S. Mower and Dr. C. T. Wyche are spoken of. From Anderson Representatives Geo. E. Prince and E. M. Rucker, Jr., are both in the race. From Abbeville are I. H. McCalla, W. N. Graydon and Wyatt Aiken. From Pickens is Dr. Smith. Altogether it promises a very lively and interesting race, and Mr. Latimer's seat will by no means go begging.

Newberry County, we believe, has a candidate mentioned for United States senate, for congress, for lieutenant-governor, for superintendent of education, for secretary of state, and for adjutant and inspector general. We should now get one for governor and state treasurer and comptroller-general. Or we should hold a meeting of the prospective candidates and then out to a stand. Our country can't expect to get the earth and have a fence put around too.

The bids for letting the contract for sewerage will be opened today. As soon as the commissioners have time to consider these bids the contract will be awarded. We hope to see work commenced very soon. The bonds have already been sold and the interest is going on. We had just as well have the sewer system put in as soon as possible.

The Lee County Vindicator, H. S. Cunningham, editor, has made its appearance at this office. It is a neatly printed and newsy paper, and if kept up to its first issue will certainly deserve to succeed. We welcome the new paper to our exchange list.

The Graded School and the college will give a week holiday in order to give the pupils an opportunity to visit the Exposition. The rate is very low; special arrangements for lodging in Charleston have been made, and this offers an opportunity which should be taken advantage of by every pupil who can possibly do so. It will well repay the time and the outlay. The Southern will run a Newberry special, leaving Newberry at 9 a. m. We hope many of the teachers and pupils of the country schools will join the Newberry party.

It looks as if every county in the State, almost, is wanting a special term of court. And we suppose properly, if the calendars are congested at other places as they are here. It would have been a great deal more satisfactory and less expensive to have about two new circuits. Population is increasing and with this increase comes increase of business for the courts. There should be at least two new judicial circuits created in the State. It should have been done some time ago.

Two Good Women.

We give below death notices from the Lutheran Visitor of two good women, both of whom were natives of Newberry County. One of them, Mrs. Kohn, spent the greater part of her life in this county, moving to Columbia only a few years ago where she son, Mr. A. H. Kohn, engaged in business in that city. The other, Mrs. Haltiwanger, was a daughter of Mr. Geo. A. Counts, of this county but had lived the greater part of her married life in Lexington County. We feel that their many friends and relatives in this county will be pleased to see these notices and hence we give them space here:

MRS. MARTHA ELIZABETH KOHN.

Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Kohn, nee Feagle, was born in Newberry County, S. C., March 24, 1838, and was taken to her heavenly home February 25, 1902, at the age of 63 years, 11 months and 1 day. She was confirmed into the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Newberry County, by Rev. J. B. Anthony, about 1848. For many years she was a devoted member of Grace Church, Prosperity, and at the time of her death was a beloved member of St. Paul's, Columbia. In 1853 she was married to Mr. Hamilton Kohn, who died in 1865 from effects of wounds received in the civil war. Mrs. Kohn was a most devoted mother and grandmother, a kind, sympathetic neighbor and an example as a Christian. Of her it can be truly said that she followed in the steps of her Saviour, "who went about doing good." She was always ready to help the needy, to minister to the suffering, and to encourage the disappointed and distressed. She loved her church and has given to it two eminently useful sons, Rev. E. H. Kohn, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church at New Market, Virginia, and Mr. A. H. Kohn, treasurer of the South Carolina Synod. There are many friends who weep with those who weep and extend their sympathies to the bereaved, but as many as knew Mrs. Kohn rejoice in the assurance of her readiness for the great change, though it came suddenly and unexpectedly. She died as she lived, a Christian, with the full assurance of eternal life with her Saviour and the dear ones who had gone before. Her body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Prosperity, the funeral services being conducted at Grace Church by her pastor.

MRS. EUGENIA FRANCES HALTIWANGER.

Mrs. Eugenia Frances Haltiwanger, nee Counts, was born in Newberry County, S. C., September, 1843, and died at her home in Columbia February 28, 1902, at the age of 59 years. In 1864 she was married to Mr. Isaiah Haltiwanger, who preceded her to the other world just a little more than a year ago. Mrs. Haltiwanger was a life-long Lutheran, baptized in infancy and confirmed at an early age. She was loyal and faithful to her church and has given the best evidence of her Christian character and spiritual strength by the way she trained her large family of children. She was the mother of twelve children, ten of whom (eight daughters and two sons) are living. It was to her home, and through it to the world, that Mrs. Haltiwanger gave her chief service. Having lived as a Christian she was prepared for the end though it came after a very brief illness. In her last hours she was unable to speak with her dear ones, but from her life the comforting assurance that she had gone home was left to them. After moving to Columbia she identified herself with St. Paul's congregation, though she left her membership at St. Andrew's, Lexington County, at which place she was buried. As the pastor of St. Andrew's could not be present on account of illness, the funeral services were conducted by the writer. She leaves a truly Christian example as a legacy to her children, and God will comfort them.

NEWBERRY AT EXPOSITION.

WHAT IS TO BE SEEN IN THE WOMAN'S BUILDING.

Newberry's Exhibit is Varied and Above the Average.

The following account of the exhibit of Newberry, by the ladies, is taken from the Charleston Bureau department of The State, of the 18th instant: Newberry's exhibit is varied, and yet is above the average in quality. The distinctive feature is the number of wedding dresses. First of all is one made by Mrs. James Gauntt before her marriage. She was four years in making it. The dress is a beautiful filmy kind of material. Mrs. Thomas Greener's wedding dress was of homespun, but she planted and picked the cotton, wove and fashioned the cloth—during war times.

Newberry also shows a lot of this "bronzes lustre" crockeryware which is made so much over. Mrs. A. G. Wise, of Prosperity, shows a sugar dish of this material, and Mrs. L. W. Jones has a mustard pot and Mrs. M. Lindsay a water pitcher. Some old dishes of the Galliard family are displayed. There is a pewter platter for beef roast and two pieces of blue delf. The platter is two hundred years old. The delf is dated 1685. An old English gilded teapot shown by Mrs. James McIntosh is very dainty. The arrangement of china is unique, there being bits of old Irish in green, old English in blue, old German and late German and American. Of the latter Miss Douschka Martin has a display of very fine work.

Mrs. Loret H. Aull exhibits a very old bit of tapestry flowers of ribbon worked into baskets of silk ribbon. A hat crocheted by Mrs. W. L. Werber during the civil war shows how the noble women made the best of circumstances.

Mrs. N. B. Mazzyk two very old as well as antique articles of toilet which are not matched in the building. One is an individual table set, knife, fork and spoon of French silver, in the original pocket case, brought to America from the Isle of Rhe in 1680. The initials of the owner, Pauline La Tour, are carved on the handle. The other is a lady's lunch companion, made Feb. 16, 1769. It is of silver and the size of a match safe, containing knife blades, etc., which screw into dainty little handles.

Several quaint little suits of clothes are shown. One of them is 50 years old and was sent down by Mrs. Scott of Little Mountain. This is also a little dress worn by Mr. Samuel Spence over 70 years ago, and by its side his wedding boots. But the quaintest of all is the little suit worn by Col. John Adam Summer when he was four years old. The long trousers were buttoned around the ankle, and this child was further arrayed in a waistcoat and a "jim-swinger." This suit is owned by Col. T. W. Holloway of Pomaria.

Other curios are a Chinese fan used in New York society in Knickerbocker days, an immense tortoise shell comb fully four inches tall, contributed by Mrs. Renwick; a silver mouthpiece for a bottle; and a pistol with a bayonet captured from an Indian squaw by Col. Asbury Tennent on the site of the city of Atlanta. A lace shawl by Mrs. Holbrook, a knitted shawl by Mrs. R. P. Holland and battenburg by Miss Sallie Brown are very pretty.

In a conspicuous place is an "extra" of the Charleston Daily Mercury, Dec. 20, 1860, declaring "The Union is Dissolved." This is more like a railroad excursion handbill than a newspaper, and the item of news thus narrated is copied into the note book of nearly every Northern visitor.

The Newberry exhibit was arranged by Mrs. C. A. Bowman, Mrs. E. O. Johnson and Miss Nathalie Mazzyk.

Miss Nathalie Mazzyk of Columbia is always delighted to show visitors around the Newberry, Anderson, Edgefield, Orangeburg, Sumter, Berkeley and Spartanburg rooms.

The Vice of Nagging

Clouds the happiness of the home but a nagging woman often needs help. She may be so nervous and run-down in health that trifles annoy her. If she is melancholy, excitable, troubled with loss of appetite, headache, sleeplessness, constipation or fainting and dizzy spells, she needs Electric Bitters, the most wonderful remedy for ailing women. Thousands of sufferers from such troubles, nervous troubles, backache and weak kidneys have used it, and become healthy and happy. Try it. Only 50c. at all Druggists, guarantee satisfaction.

HOME AND CHILD

Does your horse "feel his oats"? What a difference between the grain-fed and the grass-fed horse! The first strong and full of ginger, the second flabby, weak and tired out before he begins. The feeding makes the difference.

Children are not alike either. One is rosy, bright-eyed, full of life and laughter, another is pale, weak and dull. The feeding again is responsible.

Sickly children need special feeding. They don't feel their food. Scott's Emulsion adds the right richness to their diet. It is like grain to the horse. The child gets new appetite and strong digestion.

Scott's Emulsion is more than food. It is a strong medicine. It rouses up dull children, puts new flesh on thin ones and red blood into pale ones. It makes children grow.

Scott's Emulsion makes ordinary food do its duty.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample.
